

Plans - you don't know exactly the time and/or place. It's in your head.

Arrangement - you know the time and place. It's in your schedule.

For each of the following say whether they are probably PLANS (P) or ARRANGEMENTS (A) try harder next time	P	go sightseeing when I'm in England.

watch TV tomorrow		do my homework at the weekend
leave on 30 November		call my Mum later go on holiday next week		fly to Germany on Saturday ski every day when I'm in the Alps.		swim in the sea every day when I'm in the South.
rest at the weekend		go to Spain next month come back on 15 February		go to the Dentist's on Thursday
have a bath tomorrow		have a haircut tomorrow

Think about the next 7 days. Write down 5 plans and 5 arrangements.

Plans	Arrangements

For ARRANGEMENTS we use the PRESENT CONTINUOUS

e.g. I am leaving tomorrow. I am coming back on Thursday. I am having my nails done on Wednesday. We're getting married next month. We're going to London in May.

For PLANS we use GOING TO but we usually say GONNA e.g. I'm gonna start learning English next year. I'm gonna sell my bike. I'm gonna buy a new car next year. I'm gonna be a millionaire one day.

Complete the sentences with gonna / present continuous.
