Put students in groups of 3. Decide who is going to be the question master. He/She has the answer sheet and confirms whether the players are right or wrong.

Player 1 is noughts and Player 2 is crosses.

Player 1 chooses a number and answers the question from the worksheet. If the answer is right, Player 1 draws a nought in the square. If the answer is wrong, Player 2 can try to answer and steal the square. If Player 2 is wrong, nobody wins the square and you put a line through it.

The aim is to get as many vertical, horizontal and diagonal lines of three as you can.

x	o	o	o	o
x	o	x
x	x x

The score is currently 3 – 3.
 Both players have a diagonal line.
 Noughts have 2 horizontal lines (four in a row = two threes)
 Crosses have 2 vertical lines (four in a row = two threes)

Before each turn you must answer the question for the number of your square. If you are right, you can roll the dice. If not, you miss a go.
Remember – you go up from the bottom of the ladders and down from the top of the snakes
